Singapore, May 04, 2020: As businesses worldwide grapple through dwindling revenues and uncertainties, Ascent Technology Consulting, a global leader in enterprise business continuity management has registered a rise in enterprises exploring for the right BCM and crisis management measures. Business continuity is a proactive plan to avoid and mitigate risks associated with disruption of operations. It details steps to be taken before, during and after an event to maintain the financial viability of an organization.

While Business Continuity Management (BCM) is the need of the hour for organisations, a sizable section of them still lurk in confusion regarding the right investment decisions. In accordance with the requisition of a higher Disease Outbreak Response System Condition (Dorscon), particularly targeting the Singapore firms, AutoBCM (Business Resiliency Software) enterprise-wide full-scale BCM automation solution has accelerated its efforts to meet with the growing demand of the large enterprises, mid-sized firms and SME businesses.

Ascent BCM allows companies to take a holistic approach to identifying potential threats and their impact on its business and put preventative measure in place. Ascent's BCM software allows instant access to quickly identify the process for dealing with

- Enterprise Business Continuity Management platform, AutoBCM from Ascent Technology Consulting enables enterprises with emergency response, risk assessment and recovery strategies.

Singapore, May 05, 2020: As businesses worldwide grapple through dwindling revenues and uncertainties, Ascent Technology Consulting, a global leader in enterprise business continuity management has registered a rise in enterprises exploring for the right BCM and crisis management measures. Business continuity is a proactive plan to avoid and mitigate risks associated with disruption of operations. It details steps to be taken before, during and after an event to maintain the financial viability of an organization.

While Business Continuity Management (BCM) is the need of the hour for organisations, a sizable section of them still lurk in confusion regarding the right investment decisions. In accordance with the requisition of a higher Disease Outbreak Response System Condition (Dorscon), particularly targeting the Singapore firms, AutoBCM (Business Resiliency Software) enterprise-wide full-scale BCM automation solution has accelerated its efforts to meet with the

- Enterprise Business Continuity Management platform, AutoBCM from Ascent Technology Consulting enables enterprises with emergency response, risk assessment and recovery strategies.

Singapore, May 05, 2020: As businesses worldwide grapple through dwindling revenues and uncertainties, Ascent Technology Consulting, a global leader in enterprise business continuity management has registered a rise in enterprises exploring for the right BCM and crisis management measures. Business continuity is a proactive plan to avoid and mitigate risks associated with disruption of operations. It details steps to be taken before, during and after an event to maintain the financial viability of an organization.

While Business Continuity Management (BCM) is the need of the hour for organisations, a sizable section of them still lurk in confusion regarding the right investment decisions. In accordance with the requisition of a higher Disease Outbreak Response System Condition (DORSCON), particularly targeting the Singapore firms, AutoBCM (Business

AutoBCM exemplifies Business Continuity and Crisis Management amidst the pandemic

As businesses worldwide grapple through dwindling revenues and uncertainties, Ascent Technology Consulting, a global leader in enterprise business continuity management has registered a rise in enterprises exploring for the right BCM and crisis management measures.

Business continuity is a proactive plan to avoid and mitigate risks associated with disruption of operations. It details steps to be taken before, during and after an event to maintain the financial viability of an organization.

While Business Continuity Management(BCM) is the need of the hour for organisations, a sizable section of them still lurk in confusion regarding the right investment decisions. AutoBCM(Business Resiliency Software) enterprise wide full-scale BCM automation solution has accelerated its efforts to meet with the growing demand of the large enterprises, mid-sized firms and SME businesses across industries.

Ascent BCM allows companies to take a holistic approach to identify potential threats and their impact on its business.
